Today, the company has expanded to service the mining industry, railway stations, local councils, shopping centres and many more industries Australia wide. We manufacture and distribute products from our 1,700m² warehouse and factory in Heidelberg West. Our range of products include:

- Bollards
- Handrails
- Bike racks
- Speed humps
- Wheel stops
- Variable rate boards
- Steel staircases and structural steel beams.

We also provide engineering services for steel fabrications, general steel repairs and deliver building and office maintenance and renovations.

We Stock. We Supply. We Deliver. We Site Install. We Maintain. Australia Wide.

In the spirit of helping others, Australian Bollards has installed Armco Barriers and wheel stops to provide security and protection to the residents and staff at Little Sisters of the Poor in Northcote, Victoria. Little Sisters has been providing aged care since six French and two English Sisters took a six-week journey to arrive in Melbourne in 1885. This residence, on St Georges Road, was purchased the same year and by 1892 housed 300 residents- many of whom came from the gold rush.

Our Armco Barriers are installed in car parks, freeways and highways while also protecting gas tanks, columns, poles and residencies Australia-wide. They ensure protection for vehicles, pedestrians and premises from both minor and major collisions, as well as divide lanes and protect stock in warehouses from forklifts and other heavy machinery.

Our wheel stops are molded in one piece and reinforced with internal steel rods for increased strength and reliability. Able to withstand heavy-duty impacts, they have a beveled front, back and sides to prevent being pushed over by vehicles to ensure safety and security to drivers and pedestrians.

Founded by St Jeanne Jugan in 1851, the Little Sisters of the Poor left France to establish nursing homes around Europe to help the elderly and the poor. They are now active in 32 countries including Spain, North America, India and Australia.

Jeanne abandoned everything when she ran away from home as a teenager to follow God, working with the poor and infirm in a local hospital. Later in life, she began taking the elderly into her home, caring for them in her small apartment.

The impact of Jeanne's work spread throughout France and earned her community the name Little Sisters of the Poor.

"Like the grain of wheat that falls into the earth and dies, Jeanne's life would bear much fruit. Thousands of young women have followed in her footsteps. The Little Sisters' mission of hospitality spread to the ends of the earth, like a great wave of charity."
